

Native American & Indigenous Heritage

Ages 0-7

What Your Ribbon Skirt Means to Me : Deb Haaland's Historic Inauguration

by Alexis C. Bunten E BUNTEN

On March 18, 2021, Pia and the other children at the Indigenous community center were filled with Native pride as they watched Secretary Deb Haaland in her ribbon skirt at the White House becoming the first Native American to serve as a cabinet secretary.

Snoozing Sun

by JohnTom Knight ER KNIGHT Blue

It's nearly nighttime, but the sun won't set in Xus National Park! Kodi, Summer, and Eddy Skycedar go to Spirit Park to discover why, and learn an important lesson about what it really means to be a hero.

Just Like Grandma

by Kim Rogers E ROGERS

Wanting to be just like Grandma, with whom she loves spending time, Becca discovers something surprising about Grandma that makes her love her even more!

Liam the Lion

by Andrew Stark ER STARK Green

Liam is an Ojibwa boy starting at a new school, and he is self-conscious because of his cleft lip--especially after another boy tells him that he looks like a lion.

SONOMA COUNTY LIBRARY

sonomalibrary.org

Brought to you by the Measure Y sales tax

Books available to checkout or request at your SLC branch. 2023

Fishing with Grandma

by Susan Avingaq

E AVINGAQ

An Inuit grandmother takes her two grandchildren to a lake to go ice fishing, explaining what clothes to wear, how to drill and clear holes in the ice, and how to make a traditional Inuit jigging rod.

Forever Cousins

by Laurel Goodluck

E GOODLUCK

Highlighting the ongoing impact of the 1950s Indian Relocation Act on Native families, this Native American story follows best-friend cousins as they discover that even though they are far apart, they will always be close.

My Powerful Hair

by Carole Lindstrom

E LINDSTROM

In this empowering story about family history, self-expression and reclaiming your identity, a young girl cannot wait to grow her hair long to honor the strength and resilience of those who came before her.

Grandma's Tipi : A Present-Day Lakota Story

by S. D. Nelson

E NELSON

While visiting her Grandma at her home in Standing Rock Reservation, Clara and her cousin are given the tipi that's been handed down through generations, which teaches them how to live in the great Circle of Life and brings their family closer together.

Ancestry

by Hannah Salyer

J 709.01 SALYER

Around the world, our ancient ancestors' mysterious art is left behind on cave walls, in rain forests, and with ink made from charcoal and crushed clay. These people told their stories in magnificent drawings that still speak to us today, echoing across generations.

The First Woman Cherokee Chief : Wilma Pearl Mankiller

by Patricia Morris Buckley

ER B MANKILLER

This inspiring true story of the first woman Cherokee chief whose image will appear on a 2022 US quarter shows how she used the concept of gaduji, of everyone helping each other, to make the Cherokee Nation strong.

Molly of Denali : Crane Song

by Princess Daazhrai Johnson

ER MOLLY Green

Molly helps her photojournalist friend Nina track baby sandhill cranes to learn how the birds migrate

Still This Love Goes On

by Buffy Sainte-Marie

E SAINTE-MARIE

This beautifully illustrated tribute to Indigenous communities everywhere brings to life an Academy Award-winning Cree icon's song of the same name, combining meaningful lyrics with breathtaking illustrations to create an extraordinary piece of art.

Runs with the Stars

by Darcy Whitecrow

E WHITECROW

As they await the birth of a new foal, a man teaches his grandchild about the Ojibwe Horses that used to roam the forests of northwestern Ontario. Now he is the caretaker of his own small herd, keeping the breed alive for future generations and teaching his grandchild about the loving bond between human and animals.

Phoenix Gets Greater

by Marty Wilson-Trudeau

E WILSON-TRUDEAU

A delightful and gentle story about a young Two-Spirit Indigenous child celebrating his identity, overcoming bullying, and bonding with his family.