

Strange Bedfellows

by Ariel Slamet Ries (they/them) - YG RIES

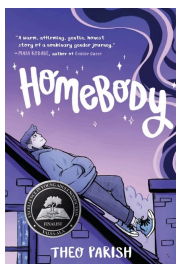

In the not-too-distant future, most of humanity resides on its last-ditch effort at utopia: Meridian, a remote alien planet where you're more likely to be born superhuman than left-handed. None of that is important to Oberon Afolayan. Since his mildly public breakdown, his whole life seems to be spiraling out of control--f it seems like only a karmic inevitability when he wakes up one day with the ability to conjure his dreams in the real world.

Breathe : Journeys to Healthy Binding

by Maia Kobabe (e/em/eir) - YG 306.768 KOBABE

An evidence-based graphic guide for people interested in chest-binding as a form of gender-affirming care. Breathe is both a practical resource for trans and nonbinary folks and an engaging and perspective-broadening read for anyone interested in what it means to be on a journey of expressing one's gender in ways that are joyful, healthy, and affirming.

Homebody

by Theo Parish (they/them) - YG B PARISH

In this intimate and defiantly hopeful graphic novel memoir, the author shares their journey to find a home within themselves, taking readers through the experiences and everyday moments that all led up to them finding the term "nonbinary," which finally struck a chord.

Amelia, If Only

by Becky Albertalli (she/her) - Y ALBERTALLI

Amelia Applebaum isn't in love with Walter Holland. He just happens to be her favorite moderately famous, chaotically bisexual YouTuber. Who she just happened to invite to prom. Okay, maybe she's slightly parasocially infatuated. But Amelia just knows sparks would fly—if only she could connect with Walter for real. But what if Amelia's butterflies aren't for Walter at all?

The Corruption of Hollis Brown

by K. Ancrum (she/her) - Y ANCRUM

Hollis Brown feels trapped in his struggling small town but then meets Walt, a spirit adrift for generations, who takes over Hollis' body and mind, but Walt and Hollis start to work together and an unspeakable bond grows between them.

Recommended Reading

by Paul Coccia (he/him) - Y COCCIA

Curvaceous, clever, and an avid reader, seventeen-year-old Bobby Ashton never misses a main character moment. So when it comes to asking out his crush, he plans a romantic gesture grand enough to go down in local history. Unfortunately, though, his extensive knowledge of every rom-com trope ever doesn't prepare him for how tragically he misreads the situation.

Queerceañera

by Alex Crespo (he/him) - Y CRESPO

A young adult rom-com follows Joaquin Zoido, a 17-year-old kid who's suddenly thrown into a whirlwind of telenovela-level drama when he finds himself fake-dating his childhood crush and newly minted date to his "queerceañera," the coming out party to celebrate him.

Somadina

by Akwaeke Emezi (they/them) - Y EMEZI

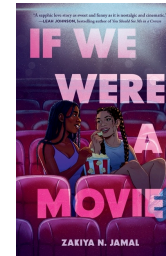

Somadina and her twin brother, Jayaike, are practically the same person: they finish each other's sentences and make each other whole. When the twins come of age, their magical gifts begin to develop, but while Jayaike's powers enchant, Somadina's cause fear to ripple through her town.

Canto Contigo

by Jonny Garza Villa (they/them) - Y GARZA VILLA

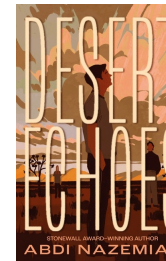

When a Mariachi star transfers schools, he expects to be handed his new group's lead vocalist spot, but what he gets instead is a tenacious current lead with a very familiar, very kissable face.

If We Were a Movie

by Zakiya N. Jamal (she/her) - Y JAMAL

Rochelle 'the Shell' Coleman is laser focused on only three things: becoming valedictorian, getting into Wharton, and, of course, taking down her annoyingly charismatic nemesis and only academic competition, Amira Rodriguez. However, despite her stellar grades, Rochelle's college application is missing that extra special something: a job. There's only one problem: Amira works there...and is also her boss.

Desert Echoes

by Abdi Nazemian (he/him) - Y NAZEMIAN

Two years after the boy he loved disappeared during their trip to Joshua Tree, 17-year-old Kam returns to Joshua Tree to find closure but instead finds himself in danger of facing a similar fate, forcing him to reckon with the truth of his past relationship.

The No-Girlfriend Rule

by Christen Randall (she/they) - Y RANDALL

When her boyfriend excludes her from participating in a roleplaying game, high school senior Hollie joins an all-girls group where an in-game romance has the potential to be more than just pretend

This Day Changes Everything

by Edward Underhill (he/him) - Y UNDERHILL

When fate throws queer teens Abby and Leo together during their high school marching band's trip to NYC, they become lost in the middle of Manhattan and embark on an epic adventure that turns into a day that changes everything, for both of them.
